CATTLE INSPECTION COMMENCES AUGUST FIRST

New Regulations Will Prevent The Theft Of Cattle

The State Cattle Protection Board will inaugurate cattle inspection at the various shipping points and slaughter houses in Mendocino county on August 1st, according to an announcement received from the board during the first part of the week. According to the provisions which were recently adopted by the state legislature to prevent the spreading of contagious disease by slaughtering diseased cattle, and to prevent loss from theft, no stock will be accepted for shipment at any point by any common carrier unless a certificate of inspection is filed with the agent, at the time of the shipment. This regulation also applies where cattle are to be slaughtered for market. All cattle to be killed must first be inspected for brands and marks.

The new regulations also require that any person who engages in slaughtering cattle must obtain a license from the state, and must also furnish bonds. Failure to comply with the regulations subject the wrongdoer to fine and imprisonment and closes his slaughterhouses for a year.

Another restriction on shipping and slaughtering imposed by the new law for the protection of the cattle owners against theft, is that bills of sale must be obtained from the original owner and shown to the inspector by the purchaser before shipment can be made or the cattle killed. All persons intending to ship cattle or to slaughter them must notify the inspector nearest the location of the shipping point or his slaughter corrals, at least 24 hours before he intends shipping or slaughtering his cattle.

Ralph G. Lane, whose address is Box "261", Willits, (phone 112) will have general charge of the work of inspection in this county. He will be assisted by Deed Wimmer, Box 195, Willits (phone 38), the latter having charge of work in Ukiah and vicinity.

HIGH SCHOOL TO HAVE COURSE IN COOKING

Manual training will not form a part of the course of study in the local high school next year, a course in domestic science having been substituted in its place. Cooking equipment will be installed in the rooms formerly occupied by the commercial department. In order to provide a place for this department which is growing rapidly each year, partitions will be placed across the assembly room, one a folding affair which can be pushed back in order to make room for the assembled students, and the other of glass, designed to form a room in which the class in typewriting may pursue its work. The eastern or front half of the assembly hall will be given over to the business subdivision of the commercial department while the rear section will be the headquarters for the stenographic department.

Miss Nell Conrad of Riverside, California, has been employed by the board of trustees to teach domestic science. She takes the place of Miss Plummer who will teach in the Oakland high schools next year.

The high school will open for the fall term about the 22d or 29th of September, according to the harvest season.

JUDGE CUTLER HERE

Judge Fletcher Cutler, of the law firm of Gillette and Cutler of San Francisco was transacting legal business in Ukiah during the first part of the week.

HIGH TAXES MAKE KINDERGARTEN UNADVISABLE

A meeting was called in the city hall Wednesday evening to obtain an expression of public sentiment in regard to the proposed kindergarten. A petition had been circulated during the week previous and was signed by some 31 parents and guardians of children of the kindergarten age, asking the trustees to establish a kindergarten here. At the meeting held Wednesday evening few of the petitioners showed up and the taxpayers who were present, while for the most part, voicing their desire to do what the trustees thought best in the matter, said that they deemed such an institution inexpedient at this time. The trustees rejected the petition giving as their reasons the increase in the tax rates, for the maintenance of the local grammar school, in the county general, and for the local high school. According to the estimates, the local school tax this year will be 70 cents as against $.335 last year year, and an increase of 5 cents is expected in the high school tax, and at least a raise of 10 cents is expected in the county general. The deficiency in the revenue of the city, caused by the closing of the saloons will necessitate some increase in the city taxes also it is thought. In consideration of all things the board believed that it was justified in denying the petition.

SANFORDS PURCHASE LAKE COUNTY HOP RANCH

One of the largest real estate deals that has been consumated in this section was completed last week, when Oscar A. and E. J. Sanford of this city purchased the T. B. Miller hop ranch near Lakeport for $50,000. The ranch totals 77 acres, 43 of which are planted in hops, and is said to be the most productive hop ranch in this state if not in the world, producing 1100 bales last year. The Sanfords will take possession about the first of October. Oscar Sanford will move to Lake county to look after the ranch, and E. J. will remain at his home near Ukiah and will look after the ranches belonging to he and his brother in this valley.

Several other hop growers in this vicinity were after the ranch, but did not know that it had been placed on the market. With the price of hops increasing daily until 75 cents per pound is practically assured for this year's hops which have not been contracted, the ranch will pay for itself in a year or two at the most.

It is rumored that an offer of $60,000 for the place has been made and refused.

U. OF C. TO OPEN MONDAY, AUG. 18

BERKELEY, July 30.—Admission applications of new students to undergraduate standing in the University of California for the fall semester should be in the hands of the Recorder of Faculties by August 4, (next Monday), it was announced today at the University.

Matriculation examinations for those who are deficient in some subject are scheduled for August 7 to 12, with registration for new students on August 15 and 16. Old students will register August 18.

Those who intend to enter the University this fall are advised to get their applications for admission immediately, not that the certificate of admission is absolutely necessary for entrance, but the possession of it saves much time and opens several doors which are closed to the new student without it.

WILL FURNISH CAPS TO YOUNGER GENERATION

Morris & LeRoy are in receipt of a quantity of wild Indian headgear, which may be had by making small purchases at that store on Saturday.

J. S. Hodgehead of Covelo was a business visitor to Ukiah during the latter part of the week.

HIGH PRICES OFFERED FOR GRAPE CROP

$38 Dollars Offered Growers By Eastern Firm

Ralph Figoni, one of the large grape producers of the Talmage section received a telegram from J. F. Smith of San Francisco during the first of the week, asking Figoni to purchase all the grapes possible at prices varying from $34 to $38 per ton, f. o. b. Ukiah. The telegram went on to state that the price of grapes was dropping daily. Smith was evidently under the impression that Figoni represents an organization of local grape growers, for he desired Figoni to come to the city immediately to contract for the whole local output of grapes. Smith says that he represents an eastern firm. Local growers are evidencing no desire to sell at this early season. They believe that the price will advance, and that grapes will be purchased to be made into wine for foreign markets. Figoni believes personally that the price will not advance.

The grape crop this year is about 15 per cent heavier than that of last year and the year before. The growers feared for a time that the recent hot spell would blast the crop, but it seemingly has done no harm and the grapes are setting on very thickly.

2,000 HUNTING LICENSES INDICATES HEAVY FIRING

According to estimates made at the county clerk's office in this city over 2,000 hunting licenses have already been sold to the nimrods of the county. Over five hundred have been sold in Ukiah, and an equal number in Willits. County Clerk Hale Prather sent 1,000 blank licenses to Fort Bragg, and indications are that practically all of them have been sold. For the past two weeks there has been a steady stream of hunters pouring into the hills around here, most of the hunters having as their destination, then orthern part of the county.

NEW SIGNS WILL POINT OUT CAMP GROUNDS

New signs are being constructed and will be placed on the streets of Ukiah, pointing out the way to the municipal camp grounds which are proving so popular with the travelling public. Huge signs have already been placed at either end of the town on the highway, advertising the municipal camp ground and pointing out the fact that this "is Ukiah." There has been so much confusion on the part of the tourists in finding the camp grounds that the small signs were deemed advisable, and will be placed in conspicuous places so that the would be campers cannot lose themselves while en route to the camping place.

TO HAVE CHARGE OF POWER HOUSE AT POTTER

POTTER VALLEY, July 31.—W. P. Clarke has been placed in charge of the local power house belonging to the Snow Mountain Water and Power Company, and moved to the valley last week to take up his new work. Mr. Clarke was formerly an electrician employed by the company here, but has been working elsewhere during the last three years. He and his wife made many friends while in the valley before, and their advent will be welcomed in business and social circles.

BOY! PAGE A CHIROPODIST

Do you know that there are some people who would pursue any means as long as they achieved a hunting trip as an end? Take the case of Floyd Banker and "Doc" Hansen for instance. The "Doc" and Banker, along with Ern Ruddick started out Tuesday afternoon for the wilds of Hull Mountain. The Copsey boys who were also a part of the party had gone on with the provisions tucked away in a buckboard, and the other three nimrods were to hie away during the afternoon in a motor car. Everything was happy. The car drew up at the Hansen domicile and "Doc" came out grinning from ear to ear. His spirits were ebullent, his manner exuberant. He stooped and kissed the cat to relieve his feelings. The starter whirred, and the engine, purring like the "thoroughbreds" that we always read about, moved the car away swiftly. But the animation of the party was short lived.

Some where in the void between here and the forks of the road leading to Potter Valley, the steering gear got jammed, and the magneto commenced to backfire on the transmission. What was to be done? It was a hopeless task to attempt to negotiate San Hedrin with the engine hitting on one cylinder and the steering gear chasing the car around in circles. So Ern Ruddick had to bring the car back to town. But Doc and Banker would not return with him. The blood lust was too strong within them to be turned back. Or perhaps they believed that it was bad luck or something. Anyway they doffed extra accoutrements and started off on foot. Ern got the car fixed up and overtook them around midnight according to an eye witness who said that the meeting was painful.

"Doc" was giving Banker's feet a massage treatment while he laved his own pedal extremities in the cooling waters of a spring. But doesn't it strike you funny the way some people will do just to murder a buck?

MENDOCINO CO. GIRL TO WED DANISH NOBLEMAN

Recent issues of the Oakland daily papers convey the interesting information that Miss Myrle Harvey, daughter of Mrs. Horace Weldon of Willits and niece of Mrs. J. J. Dashiell of San Hedrin, is now the fiancee of Lord Hendrick Sampe of Copenhagen. Miss Harvey, who was born and reared in the vicinity of Potter Valley and who possesses a multitude of admiring and devoted friends in that section of the county is a very charming young lady. She is richly endowed with a fine intellect, trained through thorough education, and has a sweet and kind disposition. She is tall and slender and fair complexioned, possessing rare beauty of face and figure. Her soft musical voice and winsome smile are the magic by which she holds in thrall, all who have the pleasure of her acquaintance. Miss Harvey, who taught very successfully, for one year in the schools of this county, has spent the past two years teaching in Honolulu. Here she met the wealthy Danish baron who is touring the world on a pleasure and sightseeing excursion. Yielding to the dictates of love, he lingered for a considerable period in the Hawaiian Islands, and preceded his bride-to-be to her native state by only a few weeks.

Miss Harvey arrived in San Francisco on the "Lurline", on July 15th, not being able to secure transportation earlier. Lord Sampe has established himself at the Hotel Oakland, Oakland, for three months, before the expiration of which time, the wedding will probably be celebrated. Miss Harvey is now engaged in the study of the Norwegian language. The distinguished couple will probably travel for a year or two, after which they will be located in Copenhagen, where the future Lady Sampe will surely grace the society of the Danish nobility.

Eel River As A Source Of Water Supply For The East Bay Cities

The Eel River is again being considered as a possible source of water supply for the East Bay cities according to an article appearing in a San Francisco magazine of a late issue.

The East Bay cities found last summer that their water supply was absolutely inadequate in a dry year, and since then they have been seeking some new source which will furnish a constant and relatively inexpensive supply of water.

With this idea in mind, the article goes on to state, each of the four East Bay cities (Oakland, Berkeley, Richmond and Alameda) have appointed men to investigate the various available water supplies in the Coast Range and Sierra Nevada mountains. On June 5, a party consisting of 25 men for the most part engineers left San Francisco for this section and spent three days looking over the territory and studying the watershed and tributaries of the Eel.

The proposed scheme would naturally embody some sort of agreement with the Snow Mountain Water and Power Company, who control the water situation as far as the Eel river is concerned.

The water would be drawn through closed conduits down the Russian river valley, through Ukiah and on down the river to a point near Geyserville from there across into the Napa valley via Alexander Valley and would cross the Carquinez Straits in the vicinity of Vallejo.

Some years ago such a scheme would have been characterized as the mad dream of a theorist, but in view of the situation there is nothing improbable about it. It is only a question of whether or not sources more available will be found.

The Snow Mountain Water and Power Company is at the present time constructing a road from their dam three miles north of Potter Valley, up along the Eel River to Gravelly Valley where it is proposed to build a dam which will flood practically all of Gravelly Valley and where 205,000 acre feet of water can be stored with a 150-foot dam.

The power company has been contemplating the construction of this dam for some years, but unsettled conditions have caused the postponement of the project each time a start was made.

Were such a dam constructed and if the East Bay cities could bargain with the power company for the right to take the water from the supply reservoir at Gravelly Valley, the length of the conduit would be approximately 145 miles. There would be an unlimited water supply in case such a dam is constructed. It is estimated that there are 526 square miles of watershed tributary to the Eel above the present diverting place of the power company. With storage capacity of 65 billion gallons as supplied by a dam at Gravelly Valley it is estimated that the supply would yield 200 million gallons per day and the quality of the water is such that it would require no filtration.

The same project was considered in 1901 in connection with supplying San Francisco with water. It was deemed inadvisable at that time because of the necessity of crossing the Golden Gate with the conduit.

Whether this new scheme is really definitely under consideration will be seen within the next few months. There is no doubt but that the East Bay cities must find some new water supply source and since the Eel River is not only available but practical the project will be given a great deal of serious consideration before it is abandoned.

RETURNS FROM SOUTH

Judge J. Q. White and family, who have been spending a pleasant vacation at Aiviso, Santa Clara county, returned to their home in this city Wednesday evening.

5,000 MACHINES PASS OVER HIGHWAY IN MONTH

Over five thousand automobiles have passed through Ukiah and over the highway north and south during the month of July, according to a count kept by one of the employees of the state highway who is working on the road north of town. He says that practically all of the autos were heavily laden with baggage, and that most or them were northbound. From all over the state come reports to the effect that transient travel was never so heavy as it has been this year. The resorts in Lake county are overcrowded according to tourists, and the same complaints are made about the various resorts throughout the United States. The strain of four years of war has been thrown off, and rich and poor are enjoying their first real vacation.

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION IN EUREKA

Responding to an invitation sent bythe Farm Bureau of Humboldt county to attend a good roads convention to be held at Eureka tomorrow, J. W. Eversole and wife, F. A. Yates, E. Martin, and Mrs. Laura Shattuck of this city left this morning for Eureka in Mr. Eversole's car. Farm Advisor Myszka was undecided late last evening as to whether he would make the trip or not. The meeting, held under the auspices of the Farm Bureaus of the northern counties is for the purpose of taking definite action towards securing immediate expenditure of the amount apportioned the northern counties for highway expenditure by the $40,000,000 bonds recently voted. Farm Bureaus all over the state are taking similar action, and the northern counties believed it advisable to get in on the ground floor in securing immediate action on the part of the highway authorities.

Sunday morning, and will leave Fort Bragg on the return trip at 6:30 p. m. Sunday afternoon. FT. BRAGG NEWS

FORT BRAGG, July 30.—The steamer Wenakee sailed from Noyo Saturday morning direct for England with a full cargo or thirty-four thousand 5x10-9 foot redwood ties. The coast boat Stettson loaded ties at Caspar yesterday, continuing north to the sound to complete her load which is consigned to South America.

Dave Brandon purchased a small saw mill which was put in at Juan Creek several years ago for the purpose of getting out ties. He will store the same at Noyo where he has redwood timber holdings, and it is probable that at a later date he may operate the mill.

HOW IT HAPPENED

By RUBY H. MARTYN.

(Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

A cloud had hung over Lloyd Kenson's going. The kind shut their lips when his drafting and futile claims to exemption were mentioned; the unkind Danburyites whispered "slacker" when the fearful neighbor went his way to the training camp. Janie Cushman, being of the kind in a company of the unkindly, denounced the group hotly for their attitude for no reason but her own sense of justice. And it was quite by the accidental irony of fate that stockings bearing her card were sent to him.

Janie would never have known about the stockings but for the letter from Lloyd which thanked her for them, a letter with longing for Danbury news glaring between the lines of gratitude.

"That ends right here," said Janie to the letter sheet burning on the embers of her open fire. "If that stoop shouldered, blue-handed clerk thinks I'm going to write back he's got another guc coming."

But the longing between the lines did haunt her. Janie too was lonely, for she seemed to herself the only person in all Danbury without kin of blood or love away at the fight. In the big white homestead she knitted and knitted, but all the socks and sweaters were for no one in particular.

And so Janie Cushman compromised with her determination by sending Lloyd a store-prepared box of food, and answered his thanks with a stiff, prim note and a box of home-made cookies. From that was born a more kindly letter and a parcel of local papers. And by that time she was launched on the sea of kindness with her hands clasped over the personal possession of a friend in active service.

When letters from the camps were talked of Janie held her peace about Lloyd; when picture post cards from the boys were passed in company she had a happy thought remembering those in her desk at home; when knitting was talked of she bent lower over the khaki sweater she was fashioning.

The sweater was nearly done when word came that no more mail was to be sent to Lloyd at the camp where he had been training. His regiment was to move very soon. It was easy enough to guess that move was the first step toward the front.

At first she thought to put the sweater by for later finishing. But in Janie there was the spirit of fighting in the last ditch. The stuff that heroes are made of was in her heart, and she determined the sweater should be ready if a chance should happen for Lloyd to get it. But a tear did fall on the khaki yarn that Janie did not understand.

The night was warm for spring. Across the field back of the big Cushman house was a railroad embankment. A freight train rumbled slowly north. A train going south stopped, with its dark outline silhouetted against the blur of lightness from a distant city. Janie, watching idly from her dark window, saw the flagman's red lantern bobbing back along the track and a little group with flashlights hovered by the steaming engine. A song from the men's throats floated across the field:

"'Where do we go from here, boys?'"

"Hello!" she hailed, boldly.

"Jan!"

"Lloyd! I'll come down."

"How'd I get here? That's my train. The engine has a hot box and I can get back as soon as the flagman when he's called in. I knew where we were. I—I guess that hot box is a sort of answer to my prayer because I wanted to thank you by word of mouth for all the things. The kindness they stand for has helped me to get hold of my courage."

"It must be an answer to my prayer, too, Lloyd. And your letting me do the things has been a kindness, too!"

The moonlight was full on his face. Janie could see his brown eyes were clear and his skin bronzed; he looked inches taller and the clerky fear-stoop was gone from his shoulders. The hand that grasped the sweater had iron sinews and on his khaki sleeve was a corporal's chevron. It was as if he had been transformed.

"You mean that?" he cried. "Oh, Jan, haven't I got to make good some more and wait to know you love me?"

"Wait? I don't think there is need of waiting for me to tell you that!" she whispered.

Twice the engine whistle cut shrilly through the night. Lloyd held Janie close before he turned and hastened back across the field. The red light of the flagman signaled from the rear and the train pulled slowly away. And for a long while Janie stood as he had left her, sad enough for the parting, but glad, too, that she had helped make manly the man she had learned to love.

TRY A WANT AD—IT PAYS.

WHO SAYS IT?

Slogging through the mud of France,
Camping in the rain;
Hiking in a frozen trance
Down some German plain;
"Fall in!"—hear the sergeant yell,
Far from home and clover;
Tell me, who the bally hell
Said the war "was over?"

Chow for breakfast—slum for noon—
Who says men are free
While the bugler's foolish tune
Pipes the reveille?
"Right dress!"—hear the sergeant buzz
From Mainz across to Dover;
Tell me who the hell it wuz
Said the war "was over?"

Cleaning up a mass of wire,
Stained with clotted blood
Where the big trucks bog and mire
In the winter mud;
Full of filth and fleas and fuzz—
Cannoneer and drover,
Tell me who the fat-head wuz
Said the war "was over?"

Picture show slides are good advertising; billboards are good advertising; direct-by-mail advertising is good; all advertising is good. But newspaper advertising is the best. Unlike the billboards and the picture show slides, it reaches directly into the homes. Unlike the direct-by-mail advertising it is cheap. It combines the best points of all other forms of reaching the buyer or the seller. Use newspaper space, and use it constantly. You will find it will pay better than any other kind of advertising.

And now the assertion has been made that the women of the United States will elect the next president. A broad assertion truly but one that carries much weight since women have proved that apathy in politics is the least of their faults, and moreover women have proven capable of judging for themselves. They combine straightforward and reasonable logic with a spiritual emotion that shows the working of a superior mind and the general attitude of the political public does not show a refutation of the assertion that the feminine vote will be more than a matter of historic interest.

The young ladies have enjoyed horseback riding to places of nearby interest and other features of mountain life. In honor of their young guests Mr. and Mrs. Johnson gave a dancing party last Friday evening at the town hall in Covelo. The guest list was a large one and the evening was a continuous round of gayety. Both young ladies will enter Mills College this autumn.

WILL RESIDE IN BERKELEY

There are many expressions of regret over the announcement that Mr. and Mrs. Martin Donohoe and their two children will leave Ukiah this autumn to make their home in Berkeley. Last week Mr. Donohoe sold their pretty bungalow home in Scott street to Mr. and Mrs. Magulas and the family are planning to leave in time for the opening of the Berkeley schools. So many local residents are leaving Ukiah for Berkeley this year. First the Harry Fallas family, then the announcement that the J. G. Thomas family would leave shortly and now a similar announcement from the Donohoe family. Truly there are reasons for expression of regret.

Miss Van Dusen, who is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Van Dusen of this city, is a charming young woman of extremely chic appearance and has always been very popular in local social circles. She is a sister of Mrs. Taylor McGarvey and Miss Elyse Van Dusen. MUSICIANS ENJOY CAMP LIFE

If you happened to be passing along the highway about four miles south of Willits any evening this week during the twilight hours you were, no doubt, wondering where the delightful music was emanating from and if you had investigated you would have found a most hospitable camp of artists hidden away in the depths of the cool canyon and you would have been invited to join the musical circle seated about the gigantic bonfire. The camp is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Duncan and a party of metropolitan friends, about twenty in all, including Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald and family of San Francisco, Miss Gladys Tuttle of Pacific Grove and Mrs. George Case of Willits. Mrs. Case is a skilled violinist and Miss Tuttle has won renown as a pipe organist. The party had a small organ in camp and Mr. Ralph Duncan's trombone, on which he is a skilled performer, made up a trio that filled the air with melody for rods around. Mrs. Duncan added to the musical numbers with her sweet voice which has been heard in Ukiah on the concert stage and it is little wonder that passersby were enthralled. Complimentary to the camping party Mr. and Mrs. Charles Duncan entertained with a dinner party on Wednesday evening at their pretty residence in Ukiah. They were assisted in serving by their daughter, Miss Iona Duncan. A pretty decorative note was struck by the lavish use of nasturtiums in the dining room and the appointments and menu were hugely apreciated by the guests. Mr. Fitzgerald is manager of the Langley and Michaels Drug Co. of San Francisco and both he and his family are most enthusiastic over the many charms of this part of the country. Following the dinner party a number of guests came in to enjoy a musical program of unusual merit. The party are returning home next Sunday.

AN AMUSING TOAST

There has been much amusing comment over the witty words of Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, famous club woman of California who only recently predicted that the women of America would elect the next president of the United States. The toast was given at a banquet of the "Down and Out Club", in other words the club made up of past presidents of the California Federation of Women's Clubs. Said Mrs. Burdette, "Club women are divided into three classes, the sitters, the talkers and the workers. The sitters may be talkers, the talkers are generally sitters; the workers are the only women worth while, and they are tolerable only when they work for the sake of the work itself."

CAPTAIN STANDLEY WILL WILL NOT BE WITH FLEET

There is much disappointment in the Mendocino colony at San Francisco over the announcement that Captain Standley and his ship will not enter San Francisco harbor with the Pacific Fleet. It was thought that Captain Standley's ship the "Virginia" would be a member of the fleet until recently when naval orders were sent from Washington that will hold the "Virginia" at Boston harbor until October. In anticipation of Captain Standley's coming the Mendocino Society were planning a reception in honor of the gallant officer who has brought fame to his native land by his remarkable record in the navy. He is a brother of Mrs. J. A. Jamison, Mrs. E. B. Gibson and Mrs. Louis Hildreth of this city and has hosts of boyhood friends here who will share in the general disappointment.

Suffice to say that he is a loyal Presbyterian and will do his best to add to the attractive program.

TEACHERS TO RECEIVE LIVING WAGE THIS YEAR

The teachers of the State of California will enter upon the next school year with good reasons to be thankful to the state legislature for placing the salary paid to teachers on an equality with that paid in other fields of endeavor, and making the remuneration a "living wage", for the first time in the history of school teaching. The new law as passed by the last session of the legislature guarantees each school at least $800, a raise of $250 from the former minimum.

During the period of the world war, the cost of the actual necessities increased so rapidly, and the purchasing power of the dollar just as rapidly shrunk until teachers' salaries fell far below a living wage, and many of the most efficient and experienced instructors were forced to seek other work from which the remuneration was sufficient to support themselves and their dependents.

Last year a number of the county superintendents reported that it was impossible to secure efficient teachers because the better educated and capable men and women were leaving the profession and seeking employment where a greater salary was forthcoming.

Educators all over the state had recognized the absolute necessity for some remedial action. The schools were being placed in the hands of medicore teachers who were not capable of carrying out the work of instruction. Superintendent H. B. Wilson of the Berkeley schools, dwelling on the subject of higher salaries for teachers, in an address at Berkeley a short time ago said:

"If conditions continue as they are at present, our children will be given over to the mediocre teachers: The talent of the teaching profession will be drawn into the business and professional worlds, where its effort will be better rewarded in a monetary way than they are in education.

"With the salaries of the teacher such as they are it is impossible to keep the best in the profession for long. Those who make good teachers are acceptable in other lines. It is up to the people to raise the salaries if they wish to secure the best teachers for their children in the future."

But a brighter and better day is coming for the teacher. The Legislature has at last seen how meagre was the teacher's salary and the new law that was recently drafted only foreshadows a time when the teacher will be paid as much as any other professional man with an equal amount of education.

ANNUAL LIBRARY REPORT SHOWS 23,778 ATTENDANCE

The annual report of the Ukiah Public Library Board compiled by the secretary has just been made, and shows beyond a shadow of doubt that the municipal library is one of the most popular and best patronized institutions in this city. During the past year there were 23,778 persons who visited the library, 2,954 of these being borrowers and the remainder visitors who availed themselves of the reading room privileges and enjoyed the magazine exchange desk, and other new features which have been recently installed. Stereopticon views furnished by Mrs. W. F. Thomas have also proved very popular with the younger visitors of the library. A writing desk furnished with postcards by the courtesy of Morris and LeRoy, is almost constantly in use especially during the months when there is much tourist traffic.

Six hundred and eighty-four volumes were added to the library during the year through contributions and by purchase from the funds bringing the total number of volums in the library up to the large total of 4,664.

B. S. Hirsch, Dr. Ida Malpas, G. A. Von Kruse, Mrs. Burrey and P. E. McKinney.

Each one of the above furnished over twelve volumes to the library. Other smaller donations were made by Mrs. W. F. Thomas, Dr. and Mrs. Hudson, Mrs. Stapp, Miss Helen Wurtenberg, C. A. Pettis, Jesse Scott and Jack Hollingsworth.

While speaking of the great number of persons who were visitors to the library during the past year, it is not out of place to mention the name of the person whose unfailing courtesy has made the library a pleasant place to spend a few moments or hours. That person is Mrs. Burrey, the librarian, who presides so efficiently over the loan desk.

SWAN PLEADS GUILTY; IN FINED $50

Swan has appeared in the Justice Court several times before and is believed to have deer meat in his possession the year around.

PEAR PICKING TO COMMENCE MONDAY

Pear picking in this valley will commence next Monday according to an announcement made here this week. This year has proved to be one of the best in the last three seasons and a huge crop is expected. Over a hundred men and boys will be employed in harvesting the fruit in this valley. The wages paid this year will be $4 or above. It is thought that before the season is over the growers will be forced to raise the wages, as Lake county growers are said to be paying over $5 per day, even at this early season. Several local pickers have stated their intentions of journeying over into Lake county and helping to harvest the pear crop there.

NEELY ARRESTED FOR STEALING A CALF

Julius Neely, of Pine Mountain was taken into custody Saturday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Clarence Ganter, when he came into Ukiah looking for work. Neely was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Lauhle, a neighbor, charging him with stealing a calf. She alleges that he also attempted to drive away a cow belonging to her, but give up the attempt when the cow turned back.

Neely was examined Saturday by Justice of the Peace Hurley. He claimed to have purchased the calf from another neighbor for the sum of $1. Later he announced that he would plead guilty when his case comes up for trial, which will be as soon as District Attorney McCowen returns from his vacation. The authorities believe that Neely is partially crazy, his wife testifying that she has noticed that his mental condition has been abnormal for some time past.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES AT YELLOWSTONE PARK

Word reached this city last Sunday afternoon of the passing of E. M. Hatch, formerly a resident of this county. The message was conveyed here in a brief telegram to his brother, S. B. Hitch and held only the meagre report of his death which occurred while the family were enjoying their vacation in the Yellowstone National Park. S. B. Hatch left immediately to join the family which consists of a wife and two children.

E. M. Hatch was the youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hatch, pioneer residents of Mendocino county, and was born on the Hatch homestead in Sherwood Valley forty-three years ago. He came to Ukiah with the family in 1893 and attended school in Ukiah, later engaging in business here for a brief period. He was a resident of Fort Bragg for a number of years prior to moving to Portland where he has since resided. About a year ago he won considerable fame by the invention of a wire-cutting machine which was a success instantly and which netted him a considerable income. He was a splendid young man of sterling worth and his early demise is a matter of keen sorrow to his many friends here and elsewhere. Besides the wife and two children he leaves to mourn his passing two brothers, J. F. Hatch of Healdsburg and S. B. Hatch of this city. Another brother, W. R. Hatch, preceded him to the grave a few months ago.

HIGH SCHOOL BOARD HOLDS MEETING SATURDAY

The board of trustees of the Ukiah high school held a joint session with the Elementary Board of the newly formed Potter Valley union district last Saturday afternoon in this city. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the methods of financing the branch of high school which will be initiated in Potter Valley under the direct supervision of Irving M. Brazier the principal of the local secondary school.

Since the residents of Potter Valley are still included in the union high school district which supports the Ukiah Union high school, and pay taxes for the support of this school it was decided that a certain sum should be furnished from the high school funds allotted to the local school for the support of the branch high school. In addition to the taxes paid by the residents of the Potter Valley district for the support of the Ukiah high school part of which will be refunded in the subsidy, an additional tax of 30 cents on the hundred, the maximum amount allowed by law for school taxation will be paid by Potter Valley for the support of their branch high school.

Two high school teachers will be employed to conduct the high school work in the branch school. In addition to secondary subjects it is though that it will be necessary for these teachers to have charge of the eighth grade work.

The Potter Valley branch of the Ukiah high school is the first experiment of the kind to be initiated in this county. The step has been tried in other districts throughout the state, and will be watched with great interest here. Potter Valley has bonded itself for $20,000 to erect an adequate high and grammar school building which, according to specifications, will be the most modern in this county.

The Potter Valley Union Elementary board of trustees is composed of Charles Hardisty, president; Otto Hughes and Charles Neil.

LOCALS HAVE "NO ONE TO PLAY WITH"

The Ukiah "Brownies" were to have taken on Healdsburg at the local park last Sunday, but for some reason unknown, Sotoyome's collections of fence busters did not show up. Quite a number of fans and fannies had collected at the park, there having been no announcement to the contrary and the official ticket sellers being on hand to collect the customary contribution.

When, after waiting for some time it was announced that there was to be no game, some of the fans waxed right wroth and didn't seem to like the "rain checks" that were handed out to them. If satisfied customers are the best salesman, (which is a maxim proclaimed by every firm throughout this big and broad land) there won't be an army of "best salesman" boosting for the next game, according to the rumor that is percolating around among the "best citizens". The "rain checks" are good for the next game, however.

"Doug" Hutton Arrives

Douglas Hutton, of the University of California arrived in town last week and will be a member of the "Brownies" if everything goes well. He played on the "fresh" team at the university last year, and has been playing for some time this summer with Willits. He should be quite an asset to the team for he can cover the third sack and thus strengthen one of the weak parts of the infield. He also hurls a puzzling brand of baseball and should be a "knock-out" as a pitcher.

The fans are wondering when the "Brownies" will be matched against Willits again. There is no doubt but what the fans would support such a contest to a man, for Willits and Ukiah are time honored rivals for baseball honors and Willits, is at the present time a couple of games to the good having taken Ukiah into camp twice while the locals were in the blossom as it were, during the initial part of the season. With the team playing the brand of baseball that made them famous during the fourth of July series, Willits would prove easy picking, and now that the boys are scheduled to come out of their slump and win again Willits would find them a pretty touch aggregation to meet up with, especially since the addition of Hutton, and with Brown pitching excellent ball.

Fort Bragg will be the scene of a lively contest between Ukiah and Fort Bragg next Sunday. Quite a number of fans from here will journey over and help the locals win.

AMENDMENTS TO THE COMPENSATION LAWS

On July 22, 1919, the amendments to the Workmen's Compensation, Insurance and Safety Act, ac adopted by the last California Legislature become effective. The Industrial Accident Commission has prepared a summary of these amendments. Approximately seventeen changes were made in the Act.

The waiting period was reduced from ten days to seven days. Compensation will be payable to the injured man on the eighth day after he leaves work as the result of an industrial injury.

When an employee under sixteen years of age is injured, it shall be the presumption that such injury was not caused by serious and wilful misconduct.

Serious and wilful misconduct cannot be charged against the injured employee by the employer if the injury is caused by the failure of the employer to comply with any provision of law or any safety order of the commission with reference to the safety of places of employment.

In claims of serious and wilful misconduct made against the employer, the general superintendent is made responsible for the corporation as well as the executive or managing officer.

Non-resident aliens are required to prove their dependency and cannot be conclusively presumed to be dependent.

Applications for adjustment of controversies may be filed with the Industrial Accident Commission by the attorney or other representative of an injured employee, if authorized to do so in writing.

A lien against compensation will be permitted for the support of dependents, as well as for the living expenses of the employee. Self-insurers shall not be required to pay any sums into the State Compensation Insurance Fund to cover liability for compensation, excepting in life pension cases.

It is a misdemeanor not to report forthwith a fatal industrial injury, by either telephone or telegraph, to the Industrial Accident Commission.

An injunction may be issued against an unsafe place of employment if it constitutes a serious menace to employees, provided that such application for an injunction comes from the Industrial Accident Commission or a member of the Commission.

The Commission is authorized to tag dangerous machinery and the use of such machinery is prohibited until the tag is removed by an authorized representative of the Commission.

Chapter 183 creates a liability on the part of the employers or their insurance carriers, in addition to any liability heretofore fixed by law, in case of the death of an employee who leaves no dependents. Under such conditions it is required that a death benefit of $350 be paid and the Industrial Accident Commission is authorized to draw upon the fund created for the promotion of re-education and rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry in California. This new law was passed in response to a public demand that crippled men be aided in acquiring new occupations. It will reduce dependency and prove of material benefit to the citizens of the state.

BETTER THAN RUBBER BOTTLE

Tube Said to Give More Satisfactory Results Than the Old Familiar Family Standby.

When aches and pains are to be allayed it is usually the family hot-water bottle that is called into service. A long rubber tube, however, about half an inch in diameter and as long as desired, will give much better results, both in adaptability and evenness of temperature, writes F. L. Matter in Popular Science Monthly.

The way to use the tube is to coil it around the part to be treated, attaching one end to a hot or cold water faucet, with the other end leading to a drain. By using the bathtub mixing faucet the tube can be kept at any temperature for as long as desired. If necessary, it can be kept in place by means of bandages.

THE GLORY OF THE DEAD.

Columbia drew her battle sword,
For liberty and right;
Across three thousand miles of sea,
She bore it to the fight.
The shining stars upon her flag
Brought hope, like dawning suns;
And tyrants' thrones were shaken
In the tempest of her guns.

Then Freedom said, "Arise, ye dead;
America is here!"
And dying Belgium raised her head
And cast away her fear.
"Debout lest morts!" The wounded French
Rose in ranks; and saw
The Great Republic's starry flag,
Her countless hosts of war.

Not in a war of conquest,
Her children's blood is shed;
She shall not stain, for gold or grain,
The Glory of her Dead
Not for an empire's wide domain,
Or victor's crown of bravery;
Her spoil shall be the shattered chains
Of nations freed from slavery.

—Bertrand Shadwell.

Ventilation.

The mayor of Terre Haute the other day appointed a number of the city schoolma'ams to do special police duty, such as to seeing to the ventilating of stores, etc., says the Indianapolis News. Miss Margaret Kilroy, a high school teacher, being one of those appointed, visited a number of stores. In one the manager became indignant as she explained the necessity of his doing more ventilation. "Why, it's very warm here," she complained, unbuttoning her coat and revealing a georgette crepe waist.

"Ventilating doesn't have anything to do with it," protested the man. "Why, 99 per cent of the cases of flu in this country have been caused by the wearing of georgette crepe waists."

He was actually ready to smile when back came Miss Kilroy's cool rejoinder: "I suppose that explains the great number of cases in the United States army, then."

Record Telephone Service.

The largest private telephone branch in the world is the one which serves the expanding needs of the war department. On July 1 this branch served 3,178 extensions; on August 1, 3,626. It requires 126 trunk lines for incoming calls; 76 for outgoing calls, local and submarine toll; 17 private toll lines to New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, via Cleveland, Hoboken and Newport News, and 105 tie lines to other government stations in Washington.

REAL ESTATE

Do You Want to Sell?

As Fall advances, we are receiving more and more inquiries concerning Mendocino Co. real estate, and reference to our lists shows that we haven't the variety of offerings we would desire. Have you a ranch or some land that you wish to put on the market? If so, communicate with us, and let us have a description of what you have. Owing to recent activities, we expect to be in a position this fall to bring quite a number of prospective purchasers into this county, and if you wish to place your land with us, we will be pleased to show it to those who come, and to attempt to affect a sale thereof for you.

It makes no difference whether your property be rough land of little value, or whether it be a good stock ranch of several thousand acres, or a farm in the valley. We have all kinds of inquires, and we desire to have all kinds of listings.

Unless you have given someother agent the exclusive privilege in writing to make your sale for you, we invite you to list with us. Because you have given some other person the privilege of selling for you, unless it be exclusive, is no reason why you cannot list with us also, and the more people you give the listings to, the more liable you are to have your property sold.

Our commissions are a straight five per cent on the purchase prices paid.

HIGH PRICES AND CRIME

We are no nearer to the solution of the wage problem than we were twenty years ago. The workers continue to demand and receive higher wages for their services and in return the price of every necessity of life is boosted to cover the addjtional cost of production.

A wave of crime is spreading rapidly throughout the United States. Psychologists tell us that this is due to the state of mind of the returned soldier. There is no doubt that the learned men are partially right in their conjectures. But most of the crimes are petty theft, due to an empty stomach rather than to a mental attitude imbrued by the front line trenches.

Those who believed the war would settle the conflict between the employer and the employed and would terminate the high prices demanded for necessities have found out that these evils have been somewhat intensified. When prices are raised labor must of a necessity beg ranted increased remuneration.

In the other hand when labor takes the initiative, prices rise to meet the occasion. In the meantime while this "chase-me-and-I'll-chase-you" contest is goin on, the dollar steadily decreases in value. In 1898 75 cents would havep urchased the same articles of food that we pay $2.45 for now.

And yet we wonder why it is that there is a predominance of crime throughout the land. Take the case of Julius Neely, arrested last week for stealing a calf. There is no doubt but that Neely is crazy. He would probably never have stolen anything had he been in his right mind. But he had a wife and seven children dependent upon him for support. He seized the first opportunity which his diseased mind could comprehend and stole a calf, hoping to convert it into ready money, and to postpone final settlement with the wolf which had been howling around his door. And now he is in jail and his wife and children are without even his feeble support.

Cases like this stare us in the face continually. Some definite boundary should be set beyond which labor should not demand or prices should not be raised.

With thousands of soldiers returning, eager to work; with thousands of trained women ready to do their share; it does not seem probable or right that prices should be so exorbitant or that the burden placed upon the purchaser should be so hard to bear.

WHAT NEXT?

According to the accusations of the Republican Senators, the League of Nations is scheduled to surrender us to England, subject us to dominion by the colored races, put our government under ecclesiastical control, make a "war trust" omnipotent, and give us over bodily to Europe. What next? We must admit that the League is some little worker if it is capable of doing all those things. But since the Republicans believe that there is no doubt that the men who propose and support the League of Nations, are selling out their country, isn't it a wonder that some wild-eyed Republican Senator hasn't proposed to try the League supporters for treason or something?

WHY NOT PRUNE UP THE TREES?

Ukiah is blessed with a climate that produces very luxuriant arboreal growth, in fact sometimes it is far too luxuriant for the comfort of the passerby. During the spring and summer when the trees are heavy laden with leaves, the troubles of the tall person are numerous. Those blessed with more than normal height are forced to dodge hither and thither if they would save the sight of their eyes or preserve whole skins. G. G. Weigle, the staff correspondent for the "Examiner", who was here during the Fourth of July celebration said: "Ukiah is certainly a fine little city. The only thing that I have to object to is that I would grow round shouldered if I live here very long and had to dodge those trees."

There is nothing more beautiful than a tree bordered sidewalk if the trees are kept uniformly trimmed. Let's all get busy and see that the trees are pruned back.

NOTICE TO READERS

To the many readers of the Dispatch-Democrat who commented on the variety and quantity of the news appearing in that organ last week, we take this means of imparting a deep and dire secret. E. P. Thurston, our "boss" is away, having become tired out with the wear and tear of editorial strain. But he left the sheet in charge of his capable force, who from "editor" to "devil" strained every nerve and employed every effort to keep the Dispatch up to its usual high standard. Of course we aren't boasting or anything, but we leave it to you, wasn't it SOME effort?

Don't forget that all the good work now being for the farmer, the working man, the merchant and the business man was authorized by Democratic legislation and is performed by Democratic officials.

—XOX—

One Republican proposes a law to prevent the President from leaving the national capital. This is a partisan confession that a Democrat is to be President for some time to come.

—XOX—

Senator LaFollette has praised the work of the Democratic Administration. He can share the praise for its future work by helping instead of hindering.

—XOX—

After hearing from the country most of the advocates of patches on the League covenant will get off their "reservations."

—XOX—
